

CLAIMS INDIANS ROAMED COUNTY 10,000 YRS. AGO

Tourist travel to Adams County did not begin with Civil War days but dates back some 5,000 to 10,000 years, members of the Adams County Historical Society learned Tuesday evening at their October meeting when John Witthoft, state anthropologist, talked about "Archeological History of Adams and Franklin Counties."

Mr. Witthoft said that in the Archaic period of Pennsylvania archeological history extending from 10,000 years ago to 1,500 or 1,000 B. C., this "no man's land" between the Potomac and Susquehanna Rivers was a mecca for Indian tribes from the lower Potomac and from as far north as the Finger Lakes section of New York. They came here for rhyolite and other native stone to use in making spear and arrow heads and other stone tools upon which the Indians depended.

He indicated that the first battle here between Northerners and Southerners probably did not take place in 1863 but 10,000 years before when New York and Maryland and Virginia Indians clashed here on trips to get "armaments."

Some other Indian facts, new to most of the more than 50 persons packed the society's courthouse basement museum for the meeting, included these statements made by Mr. Witthoft:

Not Colonial Relics

Most Indian relics found in this area do not date from American colonial days but are from 5,000 to 10,000 years old.

The first Pennsylvania settlers did not arrive in colonial days but in the Archaic period when Indians came here for the stone they could find in the mountains of Western Adams County and Franklin County.

There is little evidence of Indian population in this area from 1,500 B. C. to the coming of the white settlers and there are no signs of any permanent Indian sites in this area west of the Susquehanna River.

Mr. Witthoft said that while this area figured prominently in some stages of Indian history of Pennsylvania—especially the French and Indian War stage when pioneers here were specially vulnerable to large gaps in the history in which there is nothing to indicate the presence of Indians here.

Hunted With Spears

The speaker said Pennsylvania Indian history is divided into three chronological divisions: The period from 15,000 to 10,000 B. C. when small bands of wandering hunters roamed rapidly over the plains of this area before the forests came, hunting big game only with spears and a few chipped stone tools; the Archaic epoch from 10,000 years ago to 1,000 B. C. when Indians used some ground-eating tools and hunted small game but had not begun farming or pottery making; and the period from 1,000 B. C. to the coming of the white men when the Indians settled down along the rivers and engaged in farming and pottery making.

Mrs. Walter C. Langsam Says "Gettysburg Was Touched By Greatness, Belongs To World"

"Gettysburg is not just a small town for it has been touched by greatness and belongs to the world," declared Mrs. Walter C. Langsam, new "first lady" of Gettysburg College at the first full meeting of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College Tuesday afternoon in the Fine Arts Lounge, College Campus.

"Lincoln's Address has done more to endear America to the rest of the world than any other utterance of our founding fathers," she explained. "Gettysburg is a symbol, for here there is a memory of a great spirit and great grief."

Mrs. Langsam compared the work of the League with the aims of the United Nations in pointing out the fact that both groups had set up ideals which each sought to realize. "The world is becoming richer through a better understanding of the UN and Gettysburg College is helped in countless ways by the generous spirit of the League," she said. The speaker pointed out that the League must set an example for the students and added that "a good Christian cannot avoid helping the UN."

Attended UN Sessions

The college president's wife, who attended many sessions of the UN Assembly in New York while she was a resident of Staten Island, spoke with a feeling of pride of the "tall glass and marble building which may fulfill the dream of mankind to unite all peoples together in love and peace."

She explained that the burden of peace rests on America and the nation must return to a sense of morality and live up to our own Constitution. Along with wealth and power, America has a great heart. After every war we are quick to make friends and to bind up the wounds of our enemies," she declared.

Mrs. Langsam believes that the work of the League "helps to form public opinion" and that it may "set up a spark to light the whole world." One of its hopes is to help spread Christianity not only abroad but at home. "Our missionaries in foreign fields have set us the example," she said.

Headed UN Committee

During her stay on Staten Island where Dr. Langsam was president of Wagner College, Mrs. Langsam was chairman of the United Nations Committee which aimed to present a better understanding of the organization to the public.

She announced that Dr. Basil L. Crapster, instructor in History at Gettysburg College, will present a series of lectures on the UN at the YWCA beginning Oct. 14.

Devotions were led by the new college chaplain, Rev. Edwirth E. Korte. Incidental music was furnished by Miss Jean Sloop, college student. After the devotional period, Mrs. Dunkelberger led the group in silent tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Donald P. McPherson and Mrs. H. C. Michael who passed away during the year.

Mrs. Conway S. Williams Jr., membership chairman, reported that there are 174 members in the League. The following new members were received at Tuesday's meeting: Mrs. Walter C. Langsam, Mrs. Lilian Stites, Mrs. Francis Reinberger, Mrs. Florence Jackson, Mrs. Kressman Taylor, Mrs. Robert Fryling, Mrs. Richard Debus, Mrs. Edwirth E. Fifty-seven of the children are being cared for in their own homes, five are in the homes of relatives and 52 are in 28 foster homes. ## LATE TOMATOES FLOOD CANNERY AT BIGLERVILLE

An unusual "flood" of tomatoes at the end of the season has resulted in higher yields in the county than was first expected, the C. H. Musselman Co., of Biglerville, reported today.

Deliveries of tomatoes to the C. H. Musselman Co. for processing will continue Thursday and Friday, but the cold weather is bringing the season to a normal end now.

The tremendous production of tomatoes last week preceding the normal end of the tomato season was described by Don Horst, crop supervisor for the Biglerville company, as "a unique growing phenomenon that surprised even crop specialists."

Horst Explains

Horst explained that production during the week was such that growers "to their surprise suddenly found themselves with almost a glut of tomatoes. In fact the phenomenon was widespread and at first loads came to the C. H. Musselman Co. from quite distant areas because other canners were unable to handle the sudden surplus."

Horst's expansion of the sudden spurt in tomato production last week was: "The tomato plant has a given amount of energy. Even though the hot weather of July killed off blossoms and therefore fruit—the warm days of August produced a remarkable late set of blossoms, and therefore late fruit. As a result, production last week, of tomatoes, topped previous records for the season. The tomatoes were small (Continued on Page 2)

CARELESSNESS CALLED MAJOR CAUSE OF FIRE

With Gettysburg and Adams County joining the nation this week in the observance of "Fire Prevention Week," officials pointed to mounting fire losses, which reached $730,084.000 in the nation in 1951 and $192.175 in Adams County from Sept. 1, 1951, to Aug. 31, 1952.

The major cause of most fires, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, was careless use of matches and smoking. Other major causes were misuse of electricity, sparks on roofs, overheated or defective chimneys and furnace or stove pipes, ignition of hot greases, spontaneous combustion and explosions.

While stressing the prevention of fire by eliminating carelessness which causes many conflagrations, Gettysburg firemen also declared that, if fire strikes, it is essential to know what to do.

"Call The Firemen"

"Regardless of how small the blaze may be when discovered, after you have ascertained that no lives are in danger, call the fire department," Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs said today.

HARROW, England, (AP)—At least 82 persons died today in the collision of three passenger trains here at the height of the morning commuting rush. The government-operated railways in announcing the death toll said there were 130 other casualties with "more still to come."

Computers standing on the Harrow platform were mowed down as if by a giant scythe when the third train's locomotive left the rails and plowed into two trains already wrecked.

The death toll of 82 was announced almost eight hours after the three-way collision. At that time coaches under the main bulk of the wreckage were still to be reached by rescue workers. The crash piled coach on coach in a 50-foot heap of wreckage.

The collision involved two expresses and a commuter train. Many of the victims had been waiting at the station of this Middlesex Village, 10 miles northwest of London.

LATE TOMATOES

— But were of fair quality.

Horst, in reporting that the season's total pack would be larger than first anticipated, again deplained the inroads of out-of-state truckers at the normal ripening period. These buyers, he said, "are out only for a quick turnover and in many cases do not buy on fair standards of quality and are a demoralizing influence."

"We know it pays the grower to work for quality and volume of well ripened tomatoes. Anybody who makes him think he can slight these and continue to find a solid market for his crop is leading the tomato grower down a dead-end street. We must maintain the quality of our pack to compete in the national market and so must the grower."

Horst added that it was necessary to turn down offers of open market tomatoes last week to give preference to regular C. H. Musselman growers.

DODGERS SAY MANTLE, MIZE AND REYNOLDS WERE TOUGHEST

By RALPH RODEN
BROOKLYN (P) — Moon-faced Johnny Mize grinned:

"It's on ice."
The good-natured 39-year-old slugger of the perennial World Champion New York Yankees was massaging his aging feet in the dressing room when Gene Woodling hauled in Peeewe Reese's fly for the final out of the thrilling 1952 World Series.

While the Yanks boisterously celebrated the winning of their fourth straight championship, the vanquished Brooklyn Dodgers were bemoaning the loss of their club's sixth fall classic in as many attempts.

"Mickey Mantle Did It"
A damp-eyed Jackie Robinson expressed the general opinion of the crestfallen National League standard bearers.

"It was that Mantle, that Mickey Mantle killed us."

"If it hadn't been for him I think this would have been a very different series."

"We came so close, we had so many opportunities. But Mantle was the difference."

Couldn't Get 'Em In
Joe Black, Brooklyn's brilliant rookie righthander who started three of the games, winning the first and losing two including yesterday's 4-2 clincher, gloomily observed:

"It gnaws at you. It tears you inside. We got so many men on base. We kept saying to ourselves 'this is it,' and then there was that let down."

"It would have been better if we'd had our brains knocked out, lost 10-0. We would have felt better about it."

Mantle, surrounded by well-wishers, was uncertain over the type of pitches he belted that decided the issue.

Casey Not Retiring
"Winning the series was a greater thrill than my homers, yes even greater than my grand slammer against the White Sox during the regular season," Mantle said.

Jubilant Casey Stengel, at the Yankee helm the past two seasons, held court all over the room. Old Casey praised Mantle and relief pitcher Bob Kuzava, assured one and all that he was not retiring.

Reynolds In Long Run
Dodger skipper Chuck Dressen paid tribute to Kuzava.
"That Kuzava was burning his fast ball in there," Dressen said. "He was very quick."

Dressen also was high in his praise for Reynolds, who won two games and saved another.
"Mantle and Mize hurt us but in the long run it was Reynolds who gave us the most trouble. He's big and strong, a great pitcher," Dressen said.

ALBRIGHT GETS SET FOR GAME HERE SATURDAY

READING, Pa. — An Albright College eleven that split even in its first two meetings, stacks up against another Pennsylvania college rival in Gettysburg Saturday afternoon at Gettysburg. After bowing to Temple University, 21-0, Coach Eddie Gullian's Roaring Lions flashed unexpected power to polish off Lafayette College, 23-6.

Albright and Gettysburg first met in football in 1913 and a 7-7 stalemate resulted. Since that year, Gettysburg has captured seven decisions to Albright's one. Four games ended in ties.

Coach Gullian, former Gettysburg all-around athlete, took his inspired Lions to Gettysburg in 1950 and the Reading collegians rallied to upset the Bullets, 14-12. Gettysburg edged the Lions, 21-20, here in 1951.

Sudol Is Ace

Jack Sudol, junior fullback from East Rutherford, N. J., reeled off a 62-yard run for a touchdown against Lafayette last Saturday. Sudol, former defensive halfback, crossed the goal for his second six-pointer on a nine-yard dash.

Halfback Tony D'Apollito, of Peapack, N. J., and quarterback Mike DePaul, of Reading, also tallied for the Gullianmen who experienced little trouble in cracking Lafayette's defenses. Halfback Bruce Tenley, of Doylestown, Pa., ran well as Albright gained 344 yards in rushing. D'Apollito place-kicked four extra points.

Bob Carney, of Interlaken, N. J., former Asbury Park High standout, was quarterback during the second period when the Lions tallied two touchdowns.

Coach Gullian expects Gettysburg to launch an aerial attack and is concentrating on pass defense in workouts this week.

CODY IS PROMOTED

PHILADELPHIA (P) — Just Cody, head basketball coach at Temple University for the past 10 years, today was named Director of Athletics, succeeding Dr. Earl R. Yeomans.

Dr. Yeomans resigned the post he had held for 26 years to take over a new job as assistant to Dr.

Griffin Captures Open Golf Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (P) — An unerring putter and steady nerves netted the Pennsylvania Open Golf champion for George Griffin Jr., of Green Valley, yesterday.

Griffin won a sudden-death playoff from amateur Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., by shooting a 73, three strokes better than his opponent, over wind-swept Gulph Mills Course.

Both players played their tee to green shots with sharpness but Griffin alone maintained the pre-emption on the greens.

Griffin toured the outgoing nine in 37, one over par, and came back in even par 36. Palmer, a member of the coast Guard and now stationed in Cleveland, O., scored a 38 on each nine.

CHARLES SEEKS RING VICTORY

CINCINNATI (P) — Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, still hopeful of being the first man ever to regain a once-lost heavyweight boxing championship, tries again tonight to get started back on the trail to a title bout.

Charles will meet Bernie Reynolds of Fairfield, Conn., in a 12-round nationally televised bout at the Cincinnati Garden.

The 25-year-old Reynolds has 30 knockouts among his 52 victories but he has been an in-and-out and the betting boys had made charges a solid favorite at 2 to 1.

The bout will start at 10 p. m. (EST) and under boxing rules in Cincinnati the decision, if one is necessary, will be given by two judges and the referee. It is on a point basis and the points are given for aggressiveness, hard punches and defensive ability.

Promoter Sam Becker, who already has offered $400,000 for heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano to meet the winner in a title bout here next summer, stuck to predictions that there would be between 8,000 and 10,000 customers in the garden for the bout with a gate of about $35,000.

MICKEY MANTLE SEEMS HEADED FOR ALL-TIME BALL STARDOM

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (P) — Two main conclusions may be drawn from the World Series which ended yesterday with Brooklyn again in mourning, for the sixth time.

The first is that Mickey Mantle, a 2-year-old from Oklahoma, is destined to become recognized within a few more seasons as the greatest baseball player in the history of the game. The kid can't miss. There's no defense against him.

The second, equally inescapable, is that Casey Stengel, the bemused manager of the New York Yankees, gets advance information from the elves before he makes each move. It would be difficult to prove that he isn't the smartest pilot the game has seen. His coaches are convinced that he is.

Mantle's contributions to his club's 4-2 Series clincher yesterday at Ebbets Field were more spectacular than Stengel's. Every-one in the arena saw the "Pheonom" clout the home run and the single in successive innings—the first left-handed, the second right-handed—to put victory beyond reach of the Dodgers.

Stengel's Master Move
Nobody saw the wheels whirling in Casey's head when he waved in Bob Kuzava, to pitch to Duke Snider, the hottest of the Dodgers, with the bases filled and only one out in the seventh inning. But they were whirling, all right, and it is almost certain that Stengel knew the blond southpaw from Wyandotte, Mich., would stop the National League lead from there on.

There was some debate last night whether Mantle or Johnny Mize, the old codger, was the outstanding Yankee in the Series. In this spectator's opinion, it was no contest.

Mize, it is true, came in when things were not looking too good midway of the series and made a number of tremendous contributions to the Yankee cause. In fact, he put them back in the contention when they appeared to be licked.

But Mantle was in there all the way, scaring Brooklyn pitchers to death and fielding like an angel. He led the assault which enabled the Yanks to tie at 1-1 behind Vic Raschi on Thursday. He provided the insurance second run in Allie Reynolds' Saturday shutout by tripling in the ninth and scoring on Peeewe Reese's error.

His home run on Monday proved the winning run in the 3-2 Yankee victory which sent the playoff to the seventh game, and he killed the Dodgers completely dead with his two big ones yesterday.

Black Falter
The most unfortunate figure was Joe Black, the big Negro rookie who rocketed the Dodgers in front with a beautifully pitched triumph over Reynolds in the opening game but was turned back by Allie's shutout in the fourth. Manager Charlie Dressen obstinately held Black out of Monday's Yankee equalizer in order to have him well rested for yesterday's big one—and then Joe didn't have it!

Black set the Yanks down very smartly for the first three innings yesterday, and we like to feel, as an expert second-guesser, that he would have done the same thing the previous day if Dressen had only put him in to protect a 1-0 lead in the last three innings.

After yesterday's third inning, it may be conceded, Black was tired and wavering. So was Ed Lopat, and Vic Raschi, who tired to take Reynolds off the hook.

Preacher Roe, who came in after Black had gone up, didn't have

Injuries Hamper Temple Eleven

PHILADELPHIA (P) — Injuries plagued coach Al Kowal as he whipped his Temple Owls into shape for their clash with the Bucknell Bison on Friday night here.

While the bumps and bruises haven't sidelined anyone for the rest of the season, they have put a crimp in the defensive drills which Kowal is conducting daily to try and gear the Owls to a pitch where they can stop Bucknell's high scoring halfbacks Brad Myers and Burt Talmadge.

Bucknell has beaten the Owls for the last two years and will be favored to repeat this year unless the Philadelphiaans shake off the after-effects of their 27-0 licking by Syracuse last week.

MLKVY JOINS WARRIORS

PHILADELPHIA (P) — Bill Mikvy, Temple University's All-America basketball star, today signed a pro contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

The Palmerton, Pa., youth was selected by the Warriors in the college draft last spring but he declined to consider a pro offer until he was certain he could fit in his hours at dental school with his playing schedule.

a thing except a long time between pitches.

And that was the point at which Stengel wheeled out his secret weapon, Kuzava, the only pitcher in the park who wasn't about to collapse of the blind staggers.

Casey used the same tactics against the New York Giants a year ago. It was Kuzava, perhaps the most obscure southpaw in modern history, who snuffed out the final three Giants in the '51 World Series.

CANNER J-VEES JOLT PARADISE

The Biglerville High School junior varsity football team won its initial game of the season by blanking the Paradise Protectors outfit 20-0 in a game played at Biglerville Tuesday afternoon.

Paul Little crashed over for a Canner score on a lineback early in the first period and then booted the extra point.

The second score of the quarter resulted on a 20-yard run by Burdell Dayhoff. Again Little converted.

A 20-yard pass play, William Decker to Tom Arnold, produced the final score in the third period. Little's kick for the point was blocked.

Next Tuesday Biglerville will be host to Bolling Springs.

LEHIGH TOPS BULLETS

The Gettysburg College soccer team dropped its second game of the season 2-1 to Lehigh at Bethlehem Tuesday. On Friday the Bullets meet Johns Hopkins at Baltimore.

It's perfectly all right to ream orange juice at dinner time, cover it tightly and store it in the refrigerator; it will still be full of vitamins when you serve it at breakfast the next morning. To save time, cereal may also be cooked at dinner time and reheated for breakfast the next morning.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Records Set in World Series: The speedy ending of the 1927 World Series prevented the battle from smashing records for attendance and gate receipts.

Although the American League champions won two of the four games, the first and last, more on Pirates mistakes than on their own skill the series left no question of Yankee supremacy. Taking the series as a whole, the expensive cast piloted by Miller Huggins outplayed, outhit, outpitched and outsmarted
the National League champions.

Babe Ruth's bat smashed eight of the 10 records broken and tied another to clinch for him probably a stronger claim than any other player to the individual hero role of the series. . . . No player stood out as did Grover Cleveland Alexander on the pitching list last year.

Miss Baugher Is First Bride of Aspers Lutheran: A brilliant wedding was solemnized in Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers, 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when Miss Miss Baugher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Baugher, became the bride of Robert N. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Wright, also of Aspers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. O. D. Coble, pastor of the church.

Miss Baugher had as her attendants Miss Eva Baugher, as maid of honor; Miss Reba Uhler, bridesmaid, and Virginia Baugher and Dorothy Baugher as flower girls. H.
G. Baugher gave his daughter away.
Earl Uhler was best man and George L. Baugher and Donald Stone were ushers.

Mrs. Maude Wierman Kennedy had charge of the music, assisted by Miss Dorothy Raffensperger. . . .
The wedding was the first to be celebrated in the church which was dedicated in September, 1915, and which narrowly escaped destruction from fire a few years later.

. . . The groom is employed in the office of the Reading Railroad, Harrissburg.

Troxell Heads American Legion:
Harry J. Troxell, treasurer of Adams County, was elected commander of Albert J. Lentz Post, 202, American Legion, at the annual election of officers in the post rooms in the First National Bank building, Monday evening. He succeeds H. T. Jennings.

Other officers were chosen as follows:

Chester Bell, first vice commander; John Butt, second vice commander; Neil W. Gibson, adjutant;
Leroy Winebrenner, finance officer;
F. P. Haehnen, historian; the Rev.
Mark Stock, chaplain, and W. G.
Weaver, trustee.

Altrock and Schacht Feature Eddie Plank Memorial Game Monday:
The Philadelphia National Baseball team officially won the six-inning game from the Philadelphia Athletics, played for the benefit of the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium at Gettysburg College Monday afternoon, but to the majority of fans from Gettysburg, Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, famous funsters of the Washington team, took all the laurels.

Several thousand fans, a number of whom were from Gettysburg, attended the game at Shibe Park, and while the rain halted proceedings in the sixth inning, the two innings played by Altrock and Schacht made up for what the customers lost in the way of straight baseball, according to the sports writers in the Philadelphia papers.

Eddie Plank Jr., son of the great southpaw, threw out the first ball for the game. The Phillies slid over one run in the second inning, while the proteges of Connie Mack were unable to push a run across. . . .

Attend Series: Mr. and Mrs. George Smick, John Smick and E. Dewey
Collins, Gettysburg; William Kapp, Biglerville, and Clyde Plank, Table Rock, went to Pittsburgh to attend the opening of the world's series.

Attend World Series: Dr. W. E.
Wolff and S. A. Skinner, Arendts-ville; S. F. Lehman, Gettysburg, and Paul Lower, Fairfield, went to New York Friday to attend the third game of the world series.

Today's Talk

THE DEFIANT MAN

We need more defiant men in this world—those who will not brook defeat nor be broken by setbacks.
Defiant men with far-seeing eyes, who measure their way straight ahead. Men who dare and are not discouraged over criticism or the failure of others to appreciate, or understand, their idealism.

Defiance has many a time proved to be a virtue when exercised by a brave man. What a multitude of heroic men and women have armored themselves with it! People who refused to barter their honesty, their faith, or their integrity for a mess of pottage.

The great and historic revolutions have always been initiated by people who defied the acceptance of slavery or governmental injustice. Defiant men are the ones who have planted freedom and liberty throughout the world. Said Patrick Henry: "Give me liberty, or give me death." And old Tom Paine once said: "Where liberty is, there is my country."

Defiance of wrong in high places by people of courage has brought about the triumph of many a great reform. These defiant personalities are not the popular ones of their time — but they are the loving ones upon the pages of history. The American Declaration of Independence was signed by defiant men, and John Hancock signed his name doubly big so that no one could mistake it!

It was the defiance of workers, for better working and living conditions, that long ago brought about our labor unions. Injustice in a free land is something that cannot linger with defiant men ready to go to bat for the weak or for those held in some sort of slavery. And for those long held in bondage there is always hope, for God seems to plant defiant men wherever tyrants seek to rule, awaiting the opportunity to strike off the chains that bind them!

Crusades are always initiated by defiant men, such as J. G. Holland wrote about — "A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands." Defiant men are those who give us better government and happier times.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Outwitting" Protected, 1952, by the George Matthew Adams Service.

Just Folks

NOTE FROM JACK DEMPSEY
Jack Dempsey has written a letter to me.

"Intended for men like yourself," says he.

So grateful am I for the postage stamp

Which brought me word from the one-time champ

With his gracious offer "this coming year

To start me out on a new career."

The letter states what I don't deny:

He has taken hard knocks, but so have I.

And I'm answering Jack, since I've passed three score.

It's a little too late to train for more.

In a rocking chair I would rather rock.

I doubt I could even punch a clock.

It's a friendly letter the champ has sent.

I'm certain to help me that it was meant.

But what would by grandchildren think of me

If they made the amazing discovery

That Grandpa, accepting Jack Dempsey's aid,

Had started to train for a useful trade?

HOLDUP PROBE
BRINGS ARREST
OF 4 ESCAPEES

NEW YORK (AP)—Investigation of a Bronx liquor store holdup Monday night led police to four of the 13 soldiers who escaped through a tunnel from the Fort Dix, N. J., prison stockade last week.

The quartet, garbed in flashy sports attire, surrendered meekly to police less than 15 minutes after three of them allegedly held up the store and took $531.

Police said the fourth GI said he was having an ice cream soda at a nearby fountain and that he was picked up by the others as they made their getaway.

Capture of the four left only five of the original 13 escapees still at large Tuesday. Four others were recaptured last Thursday, the same day they made their escape.

2 Korean Vets

The four caught Monday night were identified as James O'Brien, 21, of Portsmouth, N. H.; Frank Pascale, 19, of the Bronx, N. Y.; Daniel Matishek, 20, of New York City, and Murley White, 18, of Versailles, N. Y.

Matishek and Pascale are Korean War veterans. Police said White was the soda-drinker.

Alerted police nabbed the four after spotting souped-up jalopy in which they tried to flee. Police said they found a rifle in the back seat of the car and that one of the four was armed with a revolver.

The four soldiers were booked today on charges of assault and robbery, grand larceny and violation of the weapons law. The charges linked the quartet to the liquor store holdup, the theft of the car, and the rifle and revolver which police said belonged to Pascale.

POLICE ARREST
GARDNERS TRIO

A trio of men from Gardners, R. 2, was taken into custody of Carlisle police early Sunday morning on charges of disorderly conduct. Franklin R. Kuhn, a soldier, driver of the vehicle in which the three men were traveling, was also charged with going through a stop sign at Louthier and Pitt Sts.

Kuhn paid a fine of $8 and costs and was released. He was to report at his Army post Sunday night. Information against him was filed before Squire Dosh Monday morning by Russell Kennedy, Carlisle, a taxi driver, who narrowly escaped a crash with Kennedy's car.

The two other men, Abraham
Kuhn and Donald Weidner, posted $25 bonds to appear at police court before Burgess Hargis Wednesday night. Charges against the trio had been brought by Kennedy and four boys who reported that the Kuhn car had almost struck them and that the trio had later challenged them to a fight.

Human Waves
Of 15,000 Reds Repulsed By Allied Troops

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Allied infantry Tuesday battled back 15,000 screaming Chinese Reds, charging in human waves, in the biggest co-ordinated Communist attack in Korea in at least a year.

Fighting was brutal. The Reds threw men, tanks and artillery into the battle, spread over two-thirds of the 155-mile battlefield.

But the Allies had known for three days of the attack and were ready for the assault.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the massive Red assault captured seven hill positions. But the Allied defenders stood their ground at most places. The Army added that many hundreds of Reds were killed.

Allied warplanes roared over the front Tuesday, hitting the Red lines.
Pilots said they destroyed two Red tanks and about 80 bunkers.

One Unit Wiped Out

One Allied outfit fought and died to the last man in defending a vital hill. The number of men, presumably not large, was withheld.

A front-line Allied officer indicated the Reds may have been seeking a weak point where their troops and tanks could pour through to the south. Had they succeeded, he said, they might have cut off the entire Seoul area.

The main Red blow hit White Horse Mountain and Arrowhead Ridge, two Allied-held hills near Chorwon. The Reds opened the floodgates of a reservoir in an unsuccessful effort to cut off Allied reinforcement.

Lt. William D. Lansford of Los Angeles said the Allies knew the attack was imminent when the Yokkok River, which circles both hills, began to rise.

That meant the Reds had opened the floodgates of Pongnae Reservoir. But the Allies had prepared for that by fixing rock fords, cable crossings and a helicopter landing strip.

Knowing the attack was coming,
the Allies brought up fresh troops, tanks and big guns.

Peanut butter sandwiches taste good served with hot scalloped to-matatoes for a main dish for lunch.

RED PROPAGANDISTS

LONDON (AP)—Red China now employs 2,920,000 "propagandists" in its mass political indoctrination program for the Chinese working people, says the current issue of the Cominform Journal.

The official publication for international communism says the Peiping regime added a million "propagandists" this year to the number already at work in the rural districts and in all types of enterprises.

Old C.V. Station Transformed Into Modern Business Office

Residents of Dillsburg of 80 years ago might think they had gotten into the wrong place if they should wander into the old Cumberland Valley Railroad Station, now occupied by Kinter and Grove, Inc., and remodeled by them into a modern feed warehouse and office with a modern showroom and mill in what was the old passenger room.

The spur of the Cumberland Valley Railroad into Dillsburg was built from Mechanicsburg in 1873 to bring out the ore from the banks near Dillsburg and was a special project of Thomas B. Kennedy, then president of the road. Many changes have occurred since that project was started. Then the only comfortable way in and out of town was by the new railroad and a great boon it must have been to the residents of those days. Before its advent the only way the Dillsburger had to get beyond the environs of his town was by horse and vehicle through deep red dust in summer and deep red mud in winter.

Among those who worked on the building of the spur was Samuel H. Bender, father of Christian Bender, now a resident of the town. He graded with pick and shovel and drove low carts for the graders. During the winter he lived out along the right of way with William Grady, another worker, in a shack and it got so cold they nearly froze and had to quit. Mr. Bender lived on the family farm at the top of the Dillsburg hill south of the town on Route 15. It was a 12-mile track that had to be built and men working too far from home to go back and forth lived in the shack and did their own cooking.

Ex-Station Master Is 96
The station was built the same year and the first station master was W. H. Bryson, who occupied the post from 1873 to 1880, and then W. B. Beltz served until 1887 when James Williams took over and served for 21 years. Mr. Williams, who was 96 on January 3, but who is alert and active, lives in Dillsburg. The earliest power was steam and old equipment from the main line of the road was used but in 1900 the spur was electrified. There came into being two hybrids which resembled a cross between an old passenger coach and a box car. They made five round trips a day over the 12 miles to Mechanicsburg. A cubicle was placed at either end for the motorman. A few seats lined both sides and in one corner was an old coal stove surrounded by sheet metal to protect the walls and floor from fire. In the middle of the car was a large door such as they have on box cars and was used to load freight into that part of the car. Forty-five cents was the fare one way into Harrisburg and 60 cents for a round trip. At Mechanicsburg one had to change to the regular railroad to make the trip into Harrisburg.

The mail for York Springs came into the Dillsburg station and in the early days the mail carrier drove an old fashioned sulky over the route but later when two route a day were established a covered spring wagon was used so that passenger could be accommodated on boards placed across the inside of the wagon and padded with horse blankets. The route was to Franklintown, Big Dam, Clear Springs, Latimore and York Springs. It covered 14 or 15 miles and was made in about two hours. Two of the early stage drivers were Clayton Myers of York Springs and Winfield Lory, then of York Springs and later of Dillsburg.

Considered Extension To Gettysburg
In 1890 Thomas B. Kennedy, president of the Cumberland Valley, conceived the idea of extending the road into Gettysburg. The right of way was surveyed and part of the road bed laid. Before it could be completed Mr. Fuller of Pine Grove Furnace persuaded Mr. Kennedy to put some money into the extension of the road from Carlisle to Gettysburg instead of going via Mechanicsburg and Dillsburg. This project became an accomplished fact and was later taken over by the Reading.

The passenger end of the old station remained as it was originally built for many years and the only activity carried on there was the business of the Railway Express. Now with the expansion of the Kinter and Grove interests, the old station has been modernized. Once there were old benches, a coal stove, spit box, ticket window and dining windows. Now there is a modern showroom with hardwood floors and plate glass windows plus a modern office and equipment with attractive

Joseph S. Gitt Surveyed Line From Littlestown To Hanover; William McSherry President

This is the seventh in a series of 11 articles on railroading in Adams County.

The second railroad in Adams County, which crosses a small section in the southeast corner, is now the Frederick Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It was surveyed as the Hanover and Littlestown Railroad. The first survey being run in 1855. Construction began on July 4, 1857, at Littlestown and the road was completed a year later. The first train was run on July 1, 1858, a few months before Gettysburg celebrated the arrival of its first train.

This line joined the Hanover Branch Railroad at Hanover. For a number of years, before it was taken over by the Pennsy, it was operated by the Hanover Branch Railroad.

A history of Adams County published in 1886 says:

"The first survey of the Hanover and Littlestown Railroad was made by Civil Engineer J. S. Gitt in November, 1855. A charter was soon after received. On the 4th of July, 1857, the work of construction was begun at Littlestown. A speech was made by William McSherry, the president of the railroad, and two bands discoursed fine music.

First Train In 1858

"After a bounteous repast in a grove nearby, other speeches were made and the work started. The completion of the road was celebrated just one year from the date of beginning. It joined the Hanover Branch at Hanover and the first trains were run on July 1, 1858. This road was operated for a number of years after its completion by the Hanover Branch Railroad until its lease by the Pennsylvania Railroad. It now forms a part of the Frederick division of that railroad."

The Frederick Branch, known as the York, Hanover and Frederick Railway, touches Adams County for only seven miles. The original company which built the line from Littlestown to Hanover was incorporated under a special act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania approved February 17, 1854, in which are found many names of persons prominent in that day in the affairs of Adams County.

William McSherry was the first president of the Littlestown Railroad Company and Joseph S. Gitt was employed as engineer.

The railroad was extended about two and a half miles to the Maryland State Line near Kingsdale, Pa., in 1871, by a second Littlestown Railroad Company, which was a reorganization of the first one. The first president of the second company was Ephraim Myers, and Mr. Gitt was again employed as engineer.

Operated By Pennsy

The Littlestown Railroad Company, through consolidations, became part of the present York, Hanover and Frederick Railway Company, which owns the railroad from York through Hanover and Littlestown, to Frederick, Md., a total distance of 55½ miles, which is operated by The Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

There are many interesting comparisons which could be drawn from the early Littlestown Railroad and the present operators. Engines and rolling stock have of course altered considerably. The rails laid by the early companies were made of iron and weighed 50 and 56 pounds per yard. The present rails on the main lines of the Pennsy are of steel and weigh 100, 130, 151 and 155 pounds per yard.

William McSherry was born in Littlestown on April 14, 1821, a son of James, who was a son of Patrick McSherry, a native of Ireland. When William McSherry was 13, he became a student at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. He graduated in 1840. In 1841 he began reading law with Gen. James M. Coale, of Frederick, and was admitted to the bar in 1842, and practiced law at Gettysburg from 1842 to 1846. James Cooper, subsequently United States senator, was a law partner during part of that time.

Served In Legislature
In 1847 Mr. McSherry was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives on the Whig ticket, and in 1849 was elected again to fill a vacancy caused by the election of Gen. James Cooper to the U. S. Senate. He was re-elected in 1851 and elected again in 1852. In 1857 he was elected to the State Senate.

Mr. McSherry was for years president of the Littlestown Railroad Company and was active in promoting many other community enterprises.

Ephraim Myers, for many years a leading Littlestown merchant, born in Reading Twp., September 29, 1823, became interested in the Littlestown Railroad and individually sold most of the stock. He was a director for five years and was then elected president, a position he held for 12 years. It was while he was president that a charter was obtained from Maryland, in the face of opposition from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the Littlestown Railroad extended to Frederick.

Mr. Myers was elected county commissioner in 1861 and served for three years during the Civil War. He was an ardent supporter of the Union cause. Mr. Myers was one of the first movers and advocates for the incorporation of Littlestown as a borough. He was the founder of the Mt. Carmel Cemetery, was a charter member and stockholder in the Littlestown Savings Institution and took a leading part in promoting educational facilities in Littlestown. He served as a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, the first Republican elected to that office in Adams County in 25 years.

Attended Local College

Joseph S. Gitt, civil engineer, was descended from James Gitt, who came to this country from Ireland about 1740 and settled in the Pigeon Hills section, when Indians still roamed the territory. Joseph was born near McSherrytown September 9, 1815. He was educated at Gettysburg College and in 1836 was roadman on the old Tapeworm Railroad. He taught school then for two years and was editor and proprietor of the Her-

EGYPT'S WAFD LEADER OUSTED

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Former Premier Mustapha El Nahas has knuckled under to government pressure and stepped upstairs from active leadership of the powerful Wafdist party he headed for 25 years.

The party chiefs, many of them weeping after he announced his decision Monday night, voted to make him honorary president of the party for life and informed the government they would continue to "take advice and directives" from the 75-year-old nationalist leader.

The Wafdistists thus gave in to the government of Premier Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, which had directed all parties to purge themselves and present new slates and platforms to the ministry of interior. The government specifically demanded that Nahas give up his presidency of the Wafdistists.

HOLD MAN FOR 3RD WIFE'S DEATH

CHICAGO (AP)—Police held a thrice married factory worker for an inquest today after, they said, he admitted he strangled his wife on Sept. 19, stored the body in a trunk for three days and then buried it in the back yard.

Police detectives looked on Monday as Robert James, 43, dug up the badly decomposed body of his bride of seven months, Mrs. Harriet James, 40.

Police said James told them he had married her last Feb. 23, three weeks after she replied to his newspaper advertisement for a baby sitter for his son, Richard, 18 months old. James said his second wife was the mother of Richard. Detective Joseph Chivisteck said James told police he had never divorced either of his first two wives. His third wife had been married twice and both marriages ended in divorce.

"HEX" MURDERER IS ELIGIBLE FOR TRY AT PAROLE

HARRISBURG (AP)—John Blymire, of York County, convicted of a "hex" murder in 1929, today was eligible to apply for a parole from the Eastern State Penitentiary after 23 years.

Blymire's life sentence for first degree murder was commuted yesterday by the State Pardons Board. It was his fifth plea for commutation.

Blymire was convicted in the slaying of Nelson Rehmyer, a neighbor, because Rehmyer would not give up a lock of his hair to ward off a "hex."

Doesn't Believe In "Hex"

Hex is a term used by some Pennsylvania Dutch to connote an alleged magic spell. In proper German it means "witch."

In the Rehmyer case, the hex was supposed to have been placed on the family of Wilbur Hess, who with John Curry, a 14-year-old boy at the time, was convicted with Blymire. Both Curry and Hess have already been released from prison.

Blymire's case was pleaded before the May session of the pardons board by Herbert L. Maris, Philadelphia attorney. Maris asked clemency on grounds that Blymire's conduct in prison has been excellent and that he now is "completely free of any belief he formerly had in hex."

Curry, like Blymire, had been given life imprisonment. Hess however was given 10 to 20 years on a second degree murder conviction. Both Curry and Hess were released in 1939 with Curry later receiving a full pardon.

TOWN MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

The second Town Meeting in Dillsburg will be held Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Community Building.

These meetings are sponsored by the Dillsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, who have secured Huette P. Dowling, district attorney of Dauphin County, as the speaker.

Dowling, a native of Harrisburg, was graduated from Harrisburg Technical High School and completed law studies at the Dickinson School of Law. He was admitted to practice before the Courts of Dauphin County, the Supreme and Superior Courts of Pennsylvania and the Federal District Courts. He is a member of the Dauphin County and American Bar Associations.

He is a former agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a former instructor in the FBI Training Academy at Quantico, Va. In the field of criminal law, he was assistant district attorney of Dauphin County from 1948 through 1950 and left that office to become a member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, to which office he was elected in 1950.

After completion of the 1951 session of the General Assembly, Mr. Dowling resigned from that office in order to assume the duties of district attorney of Dauphin County in January of this year. The public is urged to attend this meeting.

TAFT, TRUMAN IN SAME PARADE

SHENANDOAH, Ia. (AP)—It's Pancake Day in this town of 7,000 today, and there's a special feature this year: President Truman and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio riding in the same parade.

That's not all, either. The two political heavyweights will deliver speeches from the same platform this afternoon—2½ hours apart.

And, in keeping with tradition at the annual Harvest Festival popularly known as "Pancake Day," there'll be free pancakes for everyone.

President Truman will ride at the head of the parade, Sen. Taft in the middle.

Will Not Meet

Plans were carefully laid to avoid any face-to-face meeting between the two.

The President's special train is due in at 10:30 (CST). The senator will arrive by air shortly before. After the parade and a visit to the National Guard Armory for free pancakes, Mr. Truman will deliver his address at the high school football field. It's scheduled for 12:30 p.m.

Sen. Taft is expected to listen to the speech over the radio at the Elks Club. Paul Ferguson, heading the Taft reception committee, said two stenographers and a recording device would be ready to take down the President's words so Taft can make a rebuttal in his scheduled address at 3 p.m.

HARRISBURG—Stocks of dairy and poultry products in cold storage showed increases during August for cream and cheese but decreases for butter, eggs and dressed poultry, the State Agriculture Department reported today.

A federal-state survey showed a drop of 222,000 pounds of butter in cold storage holdings during the month. Liquid cream stocks on September 1 on the other hand were 241,000 pounds greater than on August 1.

Some penguins live in the tropics near the equator.

JUDGE RULES WITNESS MAY SAY NO TO TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—A judge has ruled that a man is within his rights if he refuses to testify before television and newsreel cameras.

In his precedent-setting decision on Monday, Federal District Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut decided that two men who cited the cameras as their reason for not testifying before the old Senate Crime Investigating Committee were innocent of charges of contempt of Congress.

Freed of the charges were Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, described as prominent Cleveland bootleggers.

First In History

Schweinhaut's decision is not subject to appeal. It is possible, however, that another judge might rule differently in a similar case. The judge noted that his ruling was the first in history on the question.

Kleinman and Rothkopf were among those subpoenaed to appear before the Crime Investigating Committee, which was headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.). They refused to testify before TV cameras and radio microphones, claiming that to be required to do so infringed on their constitutional rights.

Too Disturbing

Schweinhaut agreed. He said concentration of cameras, microphones and photographers in a pital here, of injuries suffered in an auto collision Sept. 28. Don Schaffer, 21, of York, who was driving the car, is in serious condition at the hospital.

crowded hearing room "seems to me necessarily so to disturb and distract any witness to the point that he might say something that next week he will realize was erroneous."

"The only reason for having a witness on the stand, either before a committee of Congress or before a court, is to get a thoughtful, calm, considered and, it is not to be hoped, truthful disclosure of the facts."

"This is not always accomplished even under the best of circumstances. But at least the atmosphere of the forum should lend itself to that end."

Saves Zinc Pennies; He "Loathes" Them

UTICA, Mich. (AP)—Grocer Earl McClellan now has about 100,000 zinc pennies.

He loathes them, he says, and he's saving them in a keg to keep them out of circulation.

When the keg is full—McClellan says that should be in a couple of months—he'll turn them in to a bank.

"I never liked them," McClellan said. "Almost everybody confuses them with dimes."

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The

Rev. Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon, York, will serve as superintendent of the Pennsylvania conference, Evangelical United Brethren Church, for another year.

Shannon was reelected as the conference opened its 164th annual meeting here yesterday.

Other officers named were the Rev. John W. Fisher, Lemoyne, Pa., and the Rev. Dr. Paul E. Cooper, Dallastown, Pa., secretary, succeeding the Rev. Dr. E. W. Leech, York.

NIXON COMES TO STATE TONIGHT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Nixon, Republican vice presidential nominee, will deliver a major speech at Syria Mosque tonight as the GOP campaign picks up tempo in Pennsylvania.

As Republican leaders from the commonwealth got ready to greet Nixon, there were these developments in GOP circles:

1. State Treasurer Charles R. Barber, candidate for auditor general, predicted in a speech at Uniontown that the Republicans will win Pennsylvania "by a majority of well over 200,000 votes."

2. William S. Livengood Jr., state secretary of internal affairs, said in a statewide TV broadcast that President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, "are so politically enslaved by organizations that have become infiltrated by communism that they are apparently helpless to help themselves."

3. Sen. James A. Duff and Sen. Edward Martin, the two Pennsylvania senators, urged down the line support for the Republican ticket headed by Dwight D. Eisenhower, the presidential candidate.

4. State Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland), campaigning for re-election, told a Camp Hill rally that the 1953 legislature will be one of the "most crucial deliberations in Pennsylvania history as far as economic matters are concerned."

When meteorites hit the earth they often are only warm to the touch because the flaming heat generated by passage through the air is only on the surface and does not penetrate the mass of the body.

trying to catch TOMORROW?

What are you doing—actually—when you speed on the highways? What are you going to do with the extra minutes of time you think you are saving?

Consider carefully, this matter of speed. Actually, you gain nothing except the dubious distinction of becoming a candidate for a fatal accident. For speed is the greatest killer on the highways. One out of three fatal traffic accidents can be traced to speed—traveling too fast for conditions. Traveling too fast for conditions means driving too fast for conditions of the highway... the traffic load... the time of day... visibility... weather factors. When a legal speed limit is posted—all those safety factors have been carefully weighed before the speed limit is set. YOUR SAFETY—AND THE SAFETY OF EVERY PERSON RIDING ON THAT HIGHWAY—DEPEND UPON A SENSIBLE LIMITATION OF SPEED.

Obey the posted speed limit on every road you ride. Stop trying to catch tomorrow. The way to make certain of all your tomorrows is to drive at a safe speed today!

POLIO VICTIM IS BOY SCOUT FIELD OFFICER

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A little more than two years ago Russell W. Snyder Jr., was a young man headed for success as fast as his six-foot-seven-inch frame could carry him.

And his long legs had carried him quite capably in the Midwest's Big Seven Basketball Conference while he was attending the University of Missouri.

In June, 1950, with a bachelor of science degree, he was studying at the Schiff Scout Reservation, Mendham, N. J., a Boy Scout executive's post his goal. But in November the young man from York County, Pa., was stricken with polio.

Is Scout Executive
Today Russell Snyder is a field executive of the Philadelphia Boy Scout Council and has been singled out by the Pennsylvania State Bureau of Rehabilitation in connection with Employ the Handicapped Week.

"This is no sob story," insists Horace P. Kern, a top level scout executive. "Russ has qualified for the job and got it because we believe he is the best man for it."

Snyder now helps in the guidance of 78 South Philadelphia boy scout troops with a membership of 2,300.

A specially built, hand-operated automobile, given to Snyder by his parents aid him in travelling about the city. His father has a business in Red Lion, Pa.

Snyder modestly recalls the long struggle that carried him from a hospital bed to his present position, but makes little mention of his athletic career.

18 Months' Struggle
He remembers that polio "hit one night," and "three days later I was in the Morristown Hospital, paralyzed from the waist down."

In April of this year he resumed the scout's executive training course.

The Philadelphia Boy Scout Council hired him when the course was completed.

During the 18 months he was fighting to regain the use of his legs Snyder recalls, "I grabbed hold of every story I could get my hands on of anyone who fought back and won their battle to resume a normal life after being stricken with polio."

"It made it easier."

Elect Regent Of Pennsylvania DAR

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The 56th annual conference of the Pennsylvania unit of the Daughters of the American Revolution has named Mrs. Herbert Patterson of Wilkinsburg as its regent.

Mrs. Patterson, who succeeds Mrs. Thomas Henry Lee of Philadelphia at installation ceremonies scheduled for next spring in Washington, D. C., when the national society meets.

Other officers elected included: Mrs. Isaac High Shelley, Norris-town, chaplain; Mrs. Allen L. Baker, State College, recording secretary; and Miss Margaret McKee, Kittanning, treasurer.

Mrs. A. Leroy Lightner, Wyoming, librarian; Mrs. W. M. Rice, Philadelphia, eastern director; Mrs. William H. Coleman, central director; and Mrs. Phillip Dowdell, Butler, western director.

NIXON ON AIR OCT. 13
WASHINGTON (P)—The Republican Party says Sen. Richard Nixon is going back on the airwaves Oct. 13 with a major address because of an "unprecedented" public demand that the GOP vice presidential nominee make another radio-TV appearance.

Subject of the address, to originate in New York, will be announced later.

Mother Sees Seventh Son Enter Service

PENN. YAN, N. Y. (P)—A widowed mother, who saw six sons go off to war a few years ago, now has seen her seventh enter the Army.

The six sons of Mrs. Richard Maroney who served with the Army in World War II all escaped serious injury. Five now are civilians. One is a major in Korea.

The youngest, Malcolm, was drafted yesterday.

FRENCH POLICE RAID RED FRONT GROUPS, PAPERS

PENNA. SCHOOL DIRECTORS FOR BROAD BASE TAX

HARRISBURG (AP)—A unit of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association today endorsed a broad-based tax to solve the commonwealth's financial dilemma.

An hour of bitter debate, however, saw the association's 300-member legislative council hit a complete disagreement on whether the levy should be a sales or income tax.

Separate motions to endorse a one per cent retail sales tax, exempting food, and a one-half per cent flat income tax were shouted down.

The action came just after the state association opened its 56th annual convention.

Attack On Hare

From the floor came an attack on Sen. Fred B. Hare (R-Somerset) for serving in the assembly while employed in a $8,500 a year job as public relations director of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

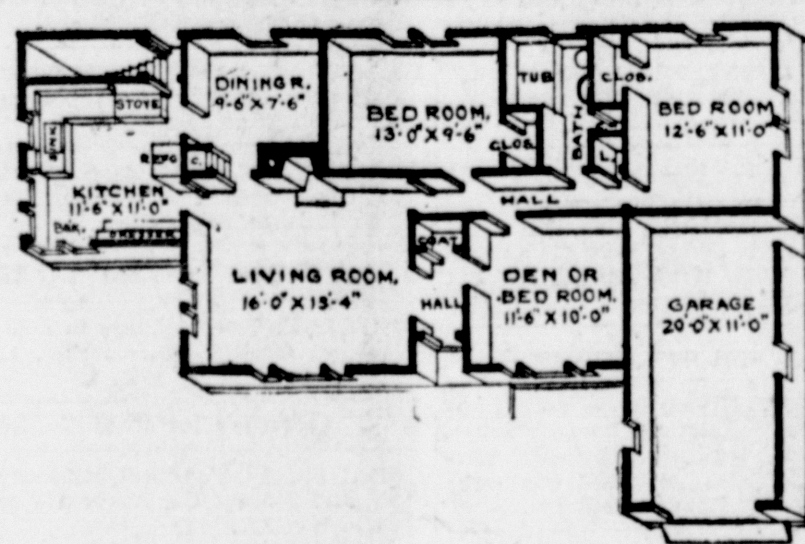

"We've had the Nixon and Stevenson funds situation," said H. Brown Fry, Mifflintown, "now here we have our duly-elected legislators, taking money from two hands—the legislature and the PSEA."

The PSEA represents 65,000 school teachers in Pennsylvania. The school directors legislative

Building Ideas For Home Owners

Rooms ..... Six
Bedrooms ..... Three Closets ..... Six
Cubage ..... 24,400 ft.
Dimensions ..... 56'x34'

Because the house alone measures 44'x24', a large lot would be required. With the garage the measurements are 56'x34', so that a 70 foot minimum lot would be required to build the house and garage as illustrated.

If you prefer a full cellar, the cubage will be 24,400 feet. However, if you want to save on basement excavation and construction expenses you can build "The Fairpoint" with a partial basement under the kitchen, living room and dining room. The cubage will then, of course, be less.

The large picture windows in the living room and in the den dress up the exterior of the house as well as provide a pleasing decorative touch for the interior.

Well lighted and ventilated by a window in the right wall and another in the left wall the 20'x11' garage also has an entry in the right wall. In the garage you'll also find plenty of storage space for your garden tools, screens, etc.

Have the heating plant installed under the living room in "The Fairpoint" and the laundry underneath the kitchen. With a full cement basement this will leave room for a large recreation room, and a deep freeze area as well as plenty of storage space.

Simple Landscaping

Although a lawn is the only type of planting around the house in the illustration, you can have flowers and shrubs if you like. However, do not plant high shrubs, or flowers that grow very tall, as they will detract from the house; ruin its rambling, lowslung effect.

A tiny porchway provides protection for the front entrance. The single glass panel in the door itself is a simple, but effective decorative touch in perfect harmony with the handsomely simple yet striking architecture of "The Fairpoint."

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor Dept. 18, The Gettysburg Times, and enclose a self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Measuring 16'x13'4", the living room is the largest room in the house; with the right decorative treatment it can easily become the most attractive room, also. Plenty of light comes into the room through the picture window in the front wall, the narrow windows flanking it and the two windows in the left wall.

In the back wall, at the corner where the dining room joins one of the bedrooms, is the fireplace.

Well Lighted Kitchen

A doorway in the left wall of the living room connects with the 11'6"x11' kitchen. Four windows dress up the left front corner of the kitchen; make certain there'll be plenty of light and ventilation. By these windows would be the ideal location for that popular breakfast nook.

Placed as it is against the right wall, between the door leading to the dining room and the one leading to the living room, the refrigerator is but a short distance from the stove.

Stairs to the cellar lead down back of the stove. The door in the back wall opens directly on to the back yard and is a convenient entrance for delivery boys and the youngsters. You'll also find it handy when, for one reason or another, you want to go directly to the back yard from the kitchen.

The one large window in the back wall provides plenty of light for the 9'6"x7'6" dining room. Choose a location for your dining set that will enable you to fully enjoy the light and view from this window.

Central Hallway

The central hallway in the house leads from the living room and connects with the bedrooms and bath. Measuring 13'x9'6", the first bedroom has double windows in the back wall and a large clothes closet in the right wall. Because of its size this room could serve as the master bedroom. However, since it has a long unbroken left wall, you might prefer to use it for the boys' room and install bunk beds.

The all modern bath contains both a tub and a shower. There is one window in its back wall and a small closet in the right wall. Opening on the central hallway, just to the right of the bath, is the convenient location of the linen closet.

At the end of the central hall this room enjoys the benefits of way is the 12'6"x11' bedroom. cross ventilation as well as plenty of light through the double windows in the right wall and the single window in the back wall. This room also has a large closet.

Across the central hall at the front of the house is the 11'6"x10' room that you can use as either a den or a bedroom. With its handsome picture window plus the narrower casement windows, the room could serve either purpose with equal convenience.

Well lighted and ventilated by a window in the right wall and another in the left wall the 20'x11' garage also has an entry in the right wall. In the garage you'll also find plenty of storage space for your garden tools, screens, etc.

Have the heating plant installed under the living room in "The Fairpoint" and the laundry underneath the kitchen. With a full cement basement this will leave room for a large recreation room, and a deep freeze area as well as plenty of storage space.
